Block: 581 Lot: 13

Lot size: 23 ft. x 96 ft.

Height: 3

Materials: Brick, stone & wood

Condition: Fair

Owner: Tremont Hotel Ltd. P'ship

Use: Commercial

Accessible: yes, restricted

Designation:

Liber/Folio: SEB 59/755

Historic Name:

Date: ca. 1825

Architect/Builder:

Style (if appropriate): Greek Revival

Description:

The three-bay facade has a flemish bond exterior wall set on a marble base. The side hall entry has a simple surround with square wood pilasters topped by carved rosettes and a plain cornice and frieze. The 6-panel door is probably a replacement. The transom is rectangular. The brick steps and iron railing are also replacements of the original marble steps. The 6/6 windows have splayed stone lintels on the first and second stories. The third story has smaller 1/1 aluminum windows with gauged flat arches just below the corbeled brick cornice. The third floor is a later addition, indicated by the change from flemish bond to common bond masonry. The building is currently used as storage space by the Tremont Hotel.

Significance:

Area: architecture

Level: local

The restrained Greek Revival details of the facade are typical of the Baltimore rowhouse of the second quarter of the 19th century. In the early 20th century, the building was used as a rooming house and later became part of the beauty school occupying 7 East Mulberry (see B-2181). In spite of these uses, the facade retains much of its original residential character.

5 East Mulberry

This semi-attached flemish bond brick building which is located in the center of Mulberry Street between Charles and St. Paul is three stories high and has three bays, a low pitched gable roof, and a chimney on the middle right side. The entrance is to the left with four brick stairs and a story leading up to the rectangular wooden door. The door is recessed in a wooden classical looking frame and has a rectangular glass transom above it. The first and second story windows are rectangular in shape with three over four panes with wooden sills and stone flat arch lintels. The third story rectangular windows have three over four panes but are of a shorter height and have flat brick lintels. The cornice is brick. The building is the same height and width as adjacent ones.
